The New Tribe Buchi Emecheta 2000 From best-selling author Holly Webb comes a brand new series full of mystery and intrigue following the adventures of a very determined heroine and her dog! Holly Webb fans will be thrilled to pieces to discover the adventures of Maisie Hitchins, the pluckiest little detective in Victorian London. Maisie Hitchins lives in her grandmother's boarding house, longing for adventure. She idolizes the famous detective, Gilbert Carrington, and follows his every case. But Maisie is about to be given the opportunity of a lifetime: her own mystery to solve! In the first book in this fantastic new series, Maisie rescues a puppy in peril whilst running an errand, and adopts him. She decides to investigate the puppy's original cruel owner, but instead gets tangled up in an intriguing plot involving stolen sausages, pilfered halfpennies and a fast-paced bicycle chase. The streets of Victorian London are never safe, but Maisie's on the case!

Thabo Mbeki Mark Gevisser 2007 What happens to a dream deferred? This question, from one of President Thabo Mbeki's favourite poems by Langston Hughes, provides the thread for this magisterial new biography. In the long shadow of Nelson Mandela, Mbeki has attempted to forge an identity for himself as the symbol of modern Africa. And yet, as he prepares to leave office in 2009, his legacy remains intensely contested. This book is both a work of deep scholarship and a gripping, highly readable story. By tracing the path of Mbeki's life, it sheds new light on his political personality and provides unprecedented insight into the dramatic role he has played in South African history. Mark Gevisser brings to life the voices and places that have made Thabo Mbeki -- the frontier of the Eastern Cape; 'Swinging Britain' and neo-Stalinist Moscow in the sixties; the fraught world of African exile; the confusion of the transition. He examines the meaning of home and exile; of fatherhood and family. He tells the story of South Africa's black elite over a turbulent century -- from 'black Englishmen' to revolutionaries to heads of state and Mbeki's own transition from doctrinaire communism to economic liberalism. He comes to grips with the current political turmoil by examining the history of a man who has carried, on his shoulders, the collective burden of a country seeking to realise a dream too long deferred.

The Track Katy Bauer 2003 This charming and audacious novel tells the story of an assortment of characters living alongside the railway between two towns on the Eastern Cape at the turn of the 20th century. The track connects their different stories and provides the machinery that drives the novel's plot: an English prince is soon to visit Oudtshoorn in order to observe the Cape's economic boom, and members of the town of DeRust are determined to coax the prince into stopping his entourage and admiring their ostrich feathers. South African history shines through this engrossing tale about the effects of industry and commerce on the towns and people of the Cape.

The Art of Southern Africa Sandra Klopper 2007
The Art of Southern Africa provides important new insights into the historical processes and cultural contexts that informed the production of carving traditions in nineteenth- and early twentieth-century communities living in this region. It includes groundbreaking research on a variety of art forms, notably the style and iconography of headrests and the figurative works associated with initiation school, indigenous patrons, and new foreign markets. A collaborative project between the private collector, Terence Pethica, and authors Sandra Klopper and Anitra Nettleton, The Art of Southern Africa celebrates the artistry of ritual and household objects, while at the same time exploring the complex values and ideas expressed in and through them.
